B2B companies

Make your marketing easy

Testimonials provide potential customers with a positive view of your product or service. Putting a customer success story in a video testimonial will help your business stand out in competitive markets, boost sales, and strengthen customer relationships.

Our happy customer Rewardful

Rewardful is a simple way for SaaS companies to setup affiliate and referral programs with Stripe. It uses Testimonial as the engine of word of mouth.

Agencies & freelancers

Let clients speak for you

If you are trying to close a deal with a lead, or trying to get more leads. Some testimonials from your previous clients would be the catalyst to make everything happen. Your leads will know if they work with you, they would be in a good team, and get a happy result as well.

Our happy customer Levels.fyi

Levels.fyi helps job hunters evaluate & negotiate higher job offers. It's an easy 10x ROI from their 1-on-1 sessions. Testimonials, especially video testimonials help convince more potential clients, and show its authenticity.

eCommerce & retails

People buy from people

Who doesn't read reviews / testimonials before making any purchase? Social proof is so critical, especially in the eCommerce industry. People buy from people. Add some human touch to your products. It will drive more conversion, and boost your revenue.

Our happy customer LashFridays

LashFridays is a Shopify merchant who sells lash brush. It uses our product to remotely collect and display testimonials, and display them to drive more sales.

Consumer apps

Drive more conversions

What makes your app stand out among competitors? It's the testimonial! Testimonial has some contagious power. It convinces other people to give it a try. It's the word of mouth.

Our happy customer Yotta

Yotta makes saving instantly fun while also offering better rate than most savings accounts. Yotta uses our product to collect testimonials so that others would know how awesome its product is. A customer even won a Tesla by using Yotta, and he gave Yotta a big shoutout in a video.

Course creators

Skyrocket course sales

Tired of collecting testimonials? Sometimes you may forget, right? Now you can easily streamline the testimonial collecting process to build your social proof.

Our happy customer Justin Welsh

Justin walked away from my executive job at a high-growth startup to build his own portfolio of one-person businesses. He has made millions of dollars by selling his online courses, and he uses Testimonial to build his social trust and created such a flywheel to further promote his courses.
